3. Tournament Period. Qualification for the Tournament shall commence on April 15, 2014, at approximately 10:00 AM Pacific Time (6:00 PM GMT) (the "Commencement Date"), and shall continue through the end of the Tournament, which is expected to conclude on or about October 5, 2014.

4. Tournament Structure and rules of operation.

a. Format. For all Sponsor operated matches, Eligible Participants will use Hearthstone card decks that they have collected and set up on the Americas server on Battle.net. Matches shall utilize a best of 5, "Last Hero Standing," format with 3 classes per Eligible Participant each match. Each Eligible Participant will choose a class for the first game in a match, and the winner of the game will continue to use the class and deck that the winner was using when the game winner won the previous game until that Eligible Participant loses a game with that class before the Eligible Participant can choose another class and deck. The Eligible Participant who loses a game will no longer be able to use the class and deck that the losing Eligible Participant played during the loss for the rest of the match. The first Eligible Participant to win three (3) games will be determined to be the winner of the match. In the event that a game ends with both players "losing" simultaneously ("a Draw"), neither player will earn a game point. The match continues with each player using the same class and deck that was played in the Draw game. b. Default. During qualification or Tournament matches, Eligible Participants shall be penalized as follows should the following situations occur:

(i) Any evidence of wintrading will disqualify an Eligible Participant from the Tournament. "Wintrading," is defined as intentionally losing a match with another player to advance one or the other's rank;

(ii) after the first game in the match begins, if an Eligible Participant leaves the match lobby, or cancels the "game challenge", or leaves the Hearthstone game client for any reason, it is considered a match forfeiture and the opposing Eligible Participant will win the match;

(iii) additionally, once the starting hands are provided by the Hearthstone game client, if an Eligible Participant leaves the game for any reason, the Eligible Participant is considered to have forfeited the game, awarding his or her opponent one game point;

(iv) if an Eligible Participant selects a deck with a class that his or her opponent already eliminated, that game is considered a loss; and

(v) if an Eligible Participant won the previous game in a match, but chooses a deck with a different class in the next game, he or she forfeits that game, but the newly selected class is not considered eliminated;

(vi) if Eligible Participant acts in collusion with another player to affect any results of the Tournament, or any matches that are part of the Qualification events for the Tournament, he or she may be disqualified from the Tournament;

(vii) if Eligible Participant commits violent acts, or threatens to commit violent acts, against any other player in the Tournament, any admin, or any spectators of the Tournament, he or she may be disqualified from the Tournament;

(viii) if Eligible Participant attempts to interfere with another player's connection to the game service through Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) or any other means, he or she may be disqualified from the Tournament;

(ix) if any individual who is not the Eligible Participant plays on Eligible Participant's Battle.net account in a Tournament game, the Eligible Participant may be disqualified from the Tournament;

(x) if Sponsor deems Eligible Participant to have engaged in any unsportsmanlike behavior, the Eligible Participant may be disqualified from the Tournament.

c. Tournament Qualification. Eligible Participants will have several opportunities to qualify for the Tournament, as set forth in this Section 4. An Eligible Participant can only qualify for the Tournament once, and any entry that an Eligible Participant would otherwise earn after qualifying for the Tournament will not be awarded. Eligible Participants can compete for an opportunity to qualify for the Tournament by engaging in the following Hearthstone competitions:

(i) Hearthstone Ranked Play Participation. The top sixteen (16) Eligible Participants in Sponsor's Hearthstone "Legend" Ranked Play system ("Ranked Play") at the end of each of the five (5) 2014 Ranked Play seasons from April to August who have not already qualified for the Tournament as of the 1st of the month following the conclusion of each Ranked Play season, shall automatically earn a spot in the Tournament.

(ii) Community Tournament winners. Sponsor may choose Eligible Participants who finish in first place in Hearthstone Tournaments held pursuant to Sponsor's Community License Agreement ("Community Tournament(s)") on the Americas servers to participate in the Tournament. During the period beginning April 15, 2014 and ending August 31, 2014, Sponsor may select any number of Community Tournaments each week, from which Sponsor would then award an entry to the Tournament to the winner of that Community Tournament. Should the winner of a selected Community Tournament already have qualified for the Tournament, an entry to the Tournament will not be awarded.

(iii) Licensed Tournaments. Sponsor may award an entry to the Tournament to Eligible Participants who finish in 1st, 2nd or 3rd place in each individual-based Hearthstone tournament licensed to a tournament organizer by Sponsor which has a prize pool equal to, or greater than, the equivalent of $10,000.00 USD (a "Licensed Tournament"). Should an Eligible Participant who places in 1st, 2nd or 3rd place in a Licensed Tournament already have qualified for the Hearthstone Americas Qualifier Tournament, an entry to the Hearthstone Americas Qualifier Tournament will not be awarded. Acceptance of Qualification. The qualification process for the Tournament will take place at the same time as the qualification process for the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship European Union Qualifier Tournament, the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship China Qualifier Tournament, the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Korea Qualifier Tournament, and the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Taiwan Qualifier Tournament (the "Regional Tournaments"). Eligible Participants will be able to attempt to qualify for each of the Regional Tournaments, however, an Eligible Participant will only be allowed to compete in one Regional Tournament for a chance to advance to the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Tournament that will be held at BlizzCon 2014. On or about September 1st, 2014 Sponsor will contact all qualified Eligible Participants using the registered email address associated with the Eligible Participant's Battle.net account. Eligible Participants will then have five (5) days from the date Sponsor sends the email communication to respond with his or her acceptance to compete in the Tournament. If an Eligible Participant has already qualified for the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship, he or she is not eligible to accept qualification in the Tournament. At that time, should an Eligible Participant qualify for more than one of the Regional Tournaments, the Eligible Participant shall communicate to Sponsor the Regional Tournament that Eligible Participants will compete in.

(iv) Last Call Tournament. In the event that Sponsor has not obtained a total of One Hundred Thirty (130) qualified Eligible Participants for the Tournament by September 1st, 2014, Sponsor may hold an open qualifier tournament to obtain additional Eligible Participants (the “Last Call Tournament”). The Last Call Tournament will occur at a time and place determined by Sponsor, and prior to commencement of the Last Call Tournament, Sponsor will inform Eligible Participants how many Eligible Participants will have the chance to qualify for the Tournament. Only Eligible Participants who play on the Americas Battle.net servers and are legal residents of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Japan, Indonesia, Malaysia, New Zealand, The Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Argentina, Brazil, Columbia, Costa Rica, and/or Chile will be eligible to compete in the Last Call Tournament.

e. Format and Operation of the Tournament. The Tournament will take place using two (2) phases of competition, as follows:

(i) Phase 1 – “The Constructed Arena Phase.” The Eligible Participants who have qualified for the Americas Qualifier Tournament will be seeded based on their cumulative placements in the Ranked Play seasons from April to August. Any ties in points will be determined first by the Eligible Participant who had the highest single placement in the Ranked Play Seasons, and thereafter, by random draw. Seeding points will be determined through the use of a graduated scale, where an Eligible Participant who placed in first place during a 2014 Hearthstone Ranked Play Season would receive 100 points, the Eligible Participant who placed in second place would receive 99 points, and so on, with the Eligible Participant who placed in 100th place receiving 1 point. Note that placements will not be adjusted for Ranked Play participants who competed in the Ranked Play seasons that are not eligible for the Tournament. The Eligible Participants who are determined to be the 1st and 2nd seed will automatically advance to Phase 2 of the Tournament. The remaining 128 Eligible Participants will be matched in Swiss-style rounds based on seeding, i.e., Eligible Participants cannot face each other twice in Phase 1. An Eligible Participant that loses 3 rounds is eliminated, and if an Eligible Participant that ends a round with +5 match record (5-0, 6-1, or 7-2), that Eligible Participant shall advance automatically to Phase 2 of the Americas Qualifier Tournament.

(ii) Phase 2 – “The Final Qualifying Round.” The Eligible Participants who qualify for Phase 2 of the Tournament will be seeded randomly into a group stage, with four (4) dual-tournament groups of four (4) Eligible Participants each. In a dual-tournament group, players are placed into a standard double elimination bracket where each match is a best of 5 games. The matchups will follow a standard double elimination bracket until the following match scores are achieved: 1st place (2-0), 2nd place (2-1), 3rd place (1-2), 4th place (0-2). The top 2 Eligible Participants from each group shall advance to compete in a round of eight (8) single-elimination bracket. The Eligible Participants who finish the round of eight (8) single-elimination bracket in 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place are the Winners of the Americas Qualifier Tournament, and will be eligible to advance to the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Tournament, as set forth in Section 5 below (“Winner(s)”). The Eligible Participants who fail to finish in the top four (4) positions in the round of eight (8) single elimination bracket shall play consolation matches to determine which Eligible Participants are the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th place finishers. Should one of the Winners be unable to attend the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Tournament, the next highest finisher in the Tournament shall be deemed to be a Winner, and advance to the 2014 Hearthstone World Championship Tournament.
