Each game in a match is blind pick for both players – no vetoes. When a player wins a game, the winning player cannot use the class that was used for that game for the remainder of the match. The player that loses a game can keep the same class or switch to a different class at their choice, with such a switch being a 'blind pick.' The first player to win 3 games wins the match.

Examples of cheating would include, without limitation:

If Sponsor determines that a player is colluding or match fixing, the player will be immediately disqualified and removed from the tournament and may be restricted from participating in future events and have all of their licenses to all Blizzard games revoked; and

b. Attempts to interfere with another player's connection to the game service through Distributed Denial of Service (DDoS) or any other means, he or she may be disqualified from the Tournament; and
